About us....

Sneha Charitable Trust belongs to the Order of the Ministers of the Infirm, popularly known as Camillians, an international faith-based organization exclusively involved in health care for the past 450 years. This Order, founded by St. Camillus de Lellis in 1582, is committed to quality and comprehensive health care with a preferential option for the poor sick. Camillians serve the sick with an extreme charity and loving kindness just like a mother towards her only child.

Snehadaan is a centre for the care and protection of children and adults with serious health disability. This centre has been functioning since 16 years.

In view of the growth in population and the declining health condition, we find it a challenge to cater to the large number of the needy children and adults facing incurable health conditions.

To enable us to meet this demand and to give people an opportunity to extend a hand of friendship and service to this disadvantaged community, we at Snehadaan decided to set up a Candle Making Industry.

This project will not only shed light into our lives but also enlighten the whole community to come together as an humanitarian endeavour.

We request you to join in this humble project by lending your support, in any manner, suiting your capacity. It could be through buying the products manufactured at Snehadaan Charitable Trust or by creating awareness about the same.

To begin with, we have envisaged this to be a simple Candle Making Industry and hope this moment will grow to be a movement... we call this project "Shine On".

Hoping that you will help contribute to lighting up the smile of our children.

Our initiative in making the lives of these children as fruitful as possible...

Thank you for your effort in keeping these little stars shining...
